Results

Your personal score tells how much your employer lives up to national legal standards regarding work. To calculate your DecentWorkCheck, you must accumulate 1 point for each YES answer marked. Then compare it with the values in Table below:

is your amount of "YES" accumulated.

Slovakia scored 47 times "YES" on 49 questions related to International Labour Standards

If your score is between 1 - 18

This score is unbelievable! Does your employer know we live in the 21st century? Ask for your rights. If there is a union active in your company or branch of industry, join it and appeal for help.

If your score is between 19 - 38

As you can see, there is ample room for improvement. But please don't tackle all these issues at once. Start where it hurts most. In the meantime, notify your union or WageIndicator about your situation, so they may help to improve it. When sending an email to us, please be specific about your complaint and if possible name your employer as well. Also, try and find out if your company officially adheres to a code known as Corporate Social Responsibility. If they do, they should live up to at least ILO standards. If they don't adhere to such a code yet, they should. Many companies do by now. You may bring this up.

If your score is between 39 - 49

You're pretty much out of the danger zone. Your employer adheres to most of the existing labour laws and regulations. But there is always room for improvement. So next time you talk to management about your work conditions, prepare well and consult this DecentWorkCheck as a checklist.

01/13 Work & Wages

Regulations on work and wages:

Labour Code No. 311/2001, amended in 2017

Minimum Wage Act (Regulation No. 663/2007)

Labour Inspection Act No. 125/2006 Coll.

Minimum Wage

Workers cannot be paid lower than the minimum wage which is the lowest remuneration that an employer should pay to the employee according to the degree of work difficulty of the relevant job. The minimum wage in Slovakia is determined by the Economic and Social Council of Slovak Republic, created under an Act of 2007 (103/2007), to concert on important issues of interest for workers and employers, mainly to economic, social, working and wage conditions, employ conditions and business conditions. The social partners (with 7 representatives each from Government, workers and employers side) have to come up with a recommendation about minimum wage level in the country by. If the social partners cannot agree on its level, the government decides unilaterally the level of minimum wage in the country by considering the growth rate of average monthly minimum wage in the previous year. Wages of an employee can also be set through collective agreement or an employment contract provided that these are not less than the minimum wage.

Minimum wage is determined by taking into account the needs of workers and their families (subsistence level), cost of living (consumer prices), level of wages and incomes in the country (average wages), economic development (socio economic situation) and level of employment for the last two years.

If minimum wage of a worker is not determined through collective bargaining agreement, the employer is required to pay the employee the minimum wage that is determined in accordance with the difficulty of position. The scale of job difficulty ranges from level 01, the basic minimum wage to level 4 (1.6 times the minimum wage) to level 6 (double the minimum wage). Employer is required to assign each job to degree (1-6) according to the characteristics of job difficulty. Employers are also required to provide a wage supplement to the workers to make up the difference between the agreed wages and the wage claim.

Compliance with provisions of Labour Code including minimum wage is ensured by the National Labour Inspectorate which is a body under Ministry of Labor, Social Affairs and Family of the Slovak Republic. A worker may contract a trade union at the workplace or send a direct complaint to the Labour Inspectorate. The labour inspectorate is authorized to impose a fine for violation of obligations (as defined in the scope of the Inspectorate), including wages and working conditions, and for violations of obligations implied by collective agreements. The amount of fine may be up to €100,000.

Regular Pay

The Labour Code allows employers to pay wages in kind except in the case of minimum wages. The wages in kind may be provided only with the consent of employee and under conditions agreed with the worker.

The wage period in Slovak republic is one month and employers are required to pay wages to their workers no later than the end of consequent calendar month unless otherwise agreed in the collective agreement or individual employment contract. If a wage will be due while worker is on leave, employer should pay this wage to the worker before commencement of leave, if requested by the employee. Wages have to be paid in monetary form. Wages are paid on agreed payment days however employer may provide a wage advance prior to the wage payment day. Wages have to be paid during the working time and at the workplace.

Employees are also eligible for wage compensation for work in difficult conditions if a competent public health body has placed such activities in the third or fourth categories and where the intensity of environmental factors requires that the employee used personal protective equipment. Employees are entitled to a wage compensation (of at least 20% of the minimum wage in Euros per hour) if their work is affected by chemical, carcinogenic & mutagenic, biological, dust and physical factors which include sound, vibration and ionizing radiation.

02/13 Compensation

Regulations on compensation:

Labour Code No. 311/2001, amended in 2017

Overtime Compensation

The normal working hours are 08 hours a day and 40 hours a week. The maximum average weekly working hours (including overtime) over a 4-month period cannot exceed 48 hours (08 hours overtime per week). The maximum average weekly working hours may even exceed 48 hours (to the limit of 56 hours....16 hours overtime in a week) over a four month period for a health care employee however an employee cannot be persecuted or sanctioned by the employer for not agreeing to work beyond 48 hours per week in average.

The weekly working hours may be distributed unevenly, over a 4 month period, in individual weeks after agreement with worker representatives or employee if the nature of work or operating conditions so require. However, this four month period is extendable to one year if agreed in a collective agreement or after an agreement with employers and employee representatives.

Overtime work is the work performed by the worker by the order of the employer or with his/her own consent. Overtime work cannot be demanded from a worker with reduced working time. An employee may not be required to work overtime for more than 150 hours maximum in a calendar year. An employee working in the medical profession may be required to work additional 100 hours of overtime (250 in total) per year. However, in the above limit, the following two types of overtime work is not included:

- i. Overtime work for which the work received alternative free time; and
- ii. Work that is performed in the context of urgent repairs or work without which there would be a risk of work-related injury or large-scale damage or extraordinary events where there is a risk to life, health or of damage on a larger scale.

Although the scope and conditions of overtime work have to be determined by the employer after agreement with the employee's representatives, an employer can compulsorily require the worker to work overtime for 150 hours. The overtime hours cannot exceed 400 hours in a year (compulsory + voluntary overtime). A worker involved in risky work cannot be assigned to do overtime work however overtime may be agreed with such employee in the case of urgent repairs or other emergencies. An employee whose job falls under the category of health care and who is over the age of 50 years may not be ordered to perform overtime work.

Employees who are employed in shifts have a normal weekly limit of 38 hours and 45 minutes if their work is scheduled in two-shifts and a normal weekly limit of 37 hours and 30 minutes when work is scheduled in three-shifts alternatively. If an employee works with proven chemical carcinogens in working processes or with a risk of chemical carcinogenicity or who performs work leading to exposure to radiation as a radiation as a category A employee in the controlled zone of workplace where there are sources of ionizing radiation, except for the controlled zone of a nuclear power plant, his normal weekly working time cannot be more than 33 hours and 30 minutes.

DECENTWORKCHECK.ORG

Those working overtime are entitled to a wage surcharge, besides their normal wages, equal to at least 25% of his/her average earnings for the performance of overtime work. From 1 January 2016, this represents a minimum level of compensation at least 0.4656 euro per hour. If an employee is involved in the performance of risk work, such employee is entitled to wages earned and a wage surcharge equal to at least 35% of his/her average earnings.

Night Work Compensation

Work performed between 22:00 and 06:00 of the following day is considered night work. A night worker is a worker who is involved in work requiring regular performance at night for at least three consecutive hours or a worker who works at least 500 hours per year at night. A night premium of at least 20% over the hourly minimum wage rate (120% of the minimum wage rate which is equal to at least €0.4656 per hour) is paid to the night worker.

Employers are further required to ensure that employees working at night undergo a free health examination (i) prior to assignment to night work; (ii) regularly as required, at least once per year; (iii) at any time during the course of assignment to night work, for health defects induced by performance of night work; and (iv) if so requested by a pregnant woman, a mother who has given birth within the last nine months or a

Compensatory Holidays/rest days

Workers may be exceptionally required to work on rest days on prior negotiation with employee representatives. Worker can be required to do only that work on public holidays which they can be asked on weekly rest days, work in continuous operations and work necessary for guarding the premises of the employer. The work on public holiday can thus only be required for urgent repair work; loading and unloading work; stock-taking and closing of accounts work; work performed in continuous operations for an employee who failed to take up his/her shift; work for averting threat endangering life or health, or in case of extraordinary events; imperative work with regard to satisfying the living, health and cultural needs of the Population; feeding and care of agricultural animals; imperative work in agriculture crop production with planting; and cultivating and harvesting of crops and in the processing of foodstuff raw materials. The Labour Code does not directly provide compensation or time-off for working on a weekly rest day however since Sunday work (i.e., the work on weekly rest day) is beyond the weekly working time, it can be considered as overtime work. For working on weekly rest day (considered as overtime work), employee can be given a time-off equal in length to the period of overtime. However, in such a case, employee would not be eligible for a wage surcharge.

DECENTWORKCHECK.ORG

Workers are also eligible for compensatory rest for working on a public holiday. An employee, who worked on a public holiday, must be provided time-off for an equal period within three months (or other period as agreed between the parties). If this compensatory rest is not provided within a period of 3 months (or other agreed period), worker has to be paid a wage surcharge.

Weekend/Public Holiday Work Compensation

If Sunday work is considered in the definition of overtime work, employees are eligible for a wage surcharge equal to at least 25% of his/her average earnings for the performance of overtime work.

If a worker works on a public holiday, he/she is entitled to his normal wages plus a wage surcharge equal to 50% of his/her average earnings. This wage surcharge is also applicable if the work is performed on a public holiday that falls of a day(s) of continues rest for an employee in the week.

03/13 Annual Leave & Holidays

Regulations on annual leave and holidays:

Labour Code No. 311/2001, amended in 2017

Paid Vacation/Annual Leave

The legislation provides a basic annual leave entitlement of at least 4 weeks where seven consecutive calendar days are considered as one week of paid holiday. In order to qualify for annual leave, a worker must have worked at least 60 continuous days for the same employer. Workers who have worked for less than a year are entitled to one-twelfth of annual paid holiday for each calendar month of continuous employment relationship.

An employee, who is not entitled to annual paid holiday or a proportionate part thereof as he/she has not performed work for at least 60 days, is entitled to a paid holiday for the days worked to the extent of one-twelfth if the annual paid holiday for each 21 days worked in the calendar year.

The basic annual leave of a worker aged 33 years or older is at least five weeks. The paid holiday/annual leave of a school headmaster, the director of a school upbringing and education facility, the director of special educational facilities and their deputies, a teacher, a teaching assistant, a vocational training instructor and an educator is at least eight weeks per calendar year. There is also a provision for supplementary paid holiday for employees working underground over the whole calendar year in the extraction of minerals or driving tunnels or passages and employees who performing particularly difficult or health-endangering work, are entitled to supplementary paid holiday of one week. If an employee works under such conditions for only part of the calendar year, he/she is entitled to one twelfth of supplementary paid holiday for each 21 days so worked.

The timing of paid holidays is determined by the employer with prior consent of the employee representatives in such a way that the employee normally draws his paid holidays as a whole by end of calendar year. The timing of leave also takes into account the employer's tasks and justified interests of the workers. Workers must be granted at least four weeks of annual leave in a calendar year if they qualify for it and there are no obstacles on employer side to prevent granting of leave. For operational reasons and in agreement with the employee representatives, a collective drawing of annual leave may be set by the employer, however only for only for two weeks (three weeks in some cases).

If the annual leave is split in various parts, one part should be at least 2 weeks unless worker and employer agree otherwise. If a public holiday day falls within the scheduled annual leave period, it is not calculated in the period of annual leave. The same applies for time-off that the worker may be entitled to for having performed overtime work or on a public holiday. Employers are required to determine and grant paid holiday to workers within two years of eligibility. If an employee is unable to draw his/her paid holiday due to drawing of maternity leave/parental leave; due to temporary incapacity or sickness, due to long term leave to perform public or trade union function, the annual leave will be granted at the end of such event (maternity leave, parental leave, incapacity/sickness, public function or trade union function).

Workers are entitled to wage compensation in the amount of his/her average earnings for the period of drawn leave. Employees cannot be paid wage compensation for leave that is not taken up to the basic paid leave of 4 weeks except in the case of employment

Pay on Public Holidays

Public holidays are paid rest days of religious or memorial nature. Employees are entitled to public holiday benefits for the following fifteen public holidays and non-working days:

Day of the Establishment of the Slovak Republic (January 1); Epiphany (January 6); Good Friday; Easter Monday; Labour Day (May 01); Day of victory over fascism (May 8); St Cyril and Methodius Day (July 5); Slovak National Uprising anniversary (August 29); Day of the Constitution of the Slovak Republic (September 1); Day of Our Lady of Sorrows (September 15); All Saints Day (November 1); Struggle for Freedom and Democracy Day (November 17); Christmas Eve (December 24); Christmas Day (December 25); Boxing Day (December 26).

Of the above 15 days, Day of the Establishment of the Slovak Republic (January 1); St Cyril and Methodius Day (July 5); Slovak National Uprising anniversary (August 29); Day of the Constitution of the Slovak Republic (September 1); Struggle for Freedom and Democracy Day (November 17) are public holidays. Work on public holidays can be required only exceptionally and upon prior consultation with employee representatives. Worker can be required to do only that work on public holidays which they can be asked on weekly rest days, work in continuous operations and work necessary for guarding the premises of the employer. The work on public holiday can thus only be required for urgent repair work; loading and unloading work; stock-taking and closing of accounts work; work performed in continuous operations for an employee who failed to take up his/her shift; work for averting threat endangering life or health, or in case of extraordinary events; imperative work with regard to satisfying the living, health and cultural needs of the Population; feeding and care of agricultural animals; imperative work in agriculture crop production with planting; and cultivating and harvesting of crops and in the processing of foodstuff raw materials.

On the days 1 January, Easter Day, 24 December after 12:00 and 25 December, an employer may not order or agree that an employee shall perform work involving the sale of goods to end consumers or related work with the exception of the following forms of retail sale:

- i. retail sales at petrol stations with fuels and lubricants,
- ii. retail sales and the filling of prescriptions in pharmacies,
- iii. retail sales at airports, harbours, other public transport facilities and hospitals,
- iv. the sale of travel tickets, and
- v. the sale of souvenirs

DECENTWORKCHECK.ORG

Weekly Rest Day

Every employer is required to arrange working time in such a way that an employee has two consecutive days of continuous rest per week. These days of rest should either fall on Saturday-Sunday or Sunday-Monday. If the nature of work and conditions of operation do not allow to schedule working time of an employee over 18 years of age, these two consecutive days of rest may be granted on other days of the week. As a minimum, every worker should be provided with 24 hours of rest in a week (or in two weeks in some cases).

Rest breaks are regulated under the Labour Code. The breaks for rest and eating are not considered working time. A worker who performs work for more than 6 hours per day is entitled to enjoy a rest break of 30 minutes. Rest breaks cannot be provided at the start or end of the work shifts. An adolescent worker (under 18 years) is entitled to a rest break of 30 minutes if he/she performs work for more than four and a half hours per day.

Employers are required to arrange daily working hours in such a way that every employee is entitled to a daily rest period of at least 12 consecutive hours. For young workers under 18, the daily rest period must be at least 14 consecutive hours.

04/13 Employment Security

Regulations on employment security:

Labour Code No. 311/2001, amended in 2017

Written Employment Particulars

Before conclusion of an employment contract, an employer is required to inform the prospective employee with rights and obligations pertaining to the employment contract, wage and working conditions under which work has to be performed.

An employment contract is agreed for an indefinite period, by default, if the duration of employment is not explicitly defined or agreed in writing in the employment contract.

Employment relationship is established by a written employment contract between the parties. Employer is also obliged to provide the employee with one written copy of the employment contract. An employment contract should have the following information: job type and brief job description; workplace; commencement date of work; wage conditions unless agreed in a collective agreement, other working conditions including payment terms, working time, duration of paid holiday and notice period. Further conditions in the interest of parties especially concerning material benefits have to be provided in the employment contract. If written employment contract does not contain detailed provisions on material benefits and wage payment terms, etc. the employer is required to provide the worker with the notification containing such conditions within one month from the date of establishment of employment relationship.

Fixed Term Contracts

Fixed term contracts are permissible under Slovak labour code. The legislation also allows hiring fixed term contract workers for tasks of permanent nature. Fixed term contracts are agreed for a maximum of two years only. These fixed term employment contracts may be extended or renewed twice during the 2-year period. The further extension of a fixed term employment contract (within two years or over two years) can be agreed only for material or objective reasons. While starting a fixed term contract, there is no obligation on the employer to specify objective reason of concluding the contract. However, extensions or renewals of fixed term contracts are allowed for objective reason only by specifying it in the employment contract. These reasons include "substitution of another employee during maternity leave, parental leave, temporary incapacity for work/sick leave, long term leave to perform public or trade union function; increase in employees required for a temporary period not exceeding 08 months in a calendar year; the performance of work agreed in a collective agreement; and the performance of seasonal work not exceeding 08 months in a calendar year.

DECENTWORKCHECK.ORG

If a worker is hired for the same work within 06 months of the end of fixed term employment contract, it is considered renewal/extension of earlier contract.

Probation Period

An employment contract can include a probationary period for a maximum period of 03 months except in the case of executive employees (reporting directly to statutory body, member of a statutory body or some other executive employee) where the period is 06 months.

There is a general prohibition on prolonging/extending of probationary period however it can be prolonged for periods of obstacle to work on the part of the employee (maternity leave, temporary incapacity for work, etc.). To be valid, the probationary/ trial period must be agreed in writing. However, the probationary period may not be agreed if a fixed term employment relationship is renewed.

Notice Requirement

An employment relationship may be terminated by "termination with the probationary period; mutual agreement; notice (ordinary dismissal); and by immediate termination (summary dismissal). The employment contract automatically expires on "the death of an employee; expiry of agreed period for fixed term contracts; and execution of task if contract was concluded for performance of a specific task".

A written notice, explicitly stating the reasons for termination as provided under the Labour Code, must be served to the worker by the employer. A notice has to be given to the worker if the employment relationship is terminated for organizational reasons (dissolving or relocation of employer or part thereof, employee becoming redundant), or for health reasons (long term loss of ability to perform work) or personal reasons (capacity for work, unsatisfactory performance of work). In the event of organization reasons as well as health condition, the written notice is at least 01 month for less than 01 year of service; at least 02 months for greater than 01 but less than 05 years of service; and at least 03 months for greater than 05 years of service

In the case of personal reasons, the written notice period is 01 month for less than 01 year of service and at least 02 months for at least one year of service at the date of delivery of notice.

The period of employment relationship for the purpose of notice of termination includes repeated fixed term employment relationships concluded with the same employer if they followed each other without break.

The Labour Code provides only the minimum limit of notice period. An employee, if wishing to terminate the employment contract, also has to give notice to the employer for any reason whatsoever or without stating a reason.

DECENTWORKCHECK.ORG

A fixed term employment contract can also be terminated prior to the expiration of agreed period. During the probationary period, both the parties can terminate the employment contract in writing for a reason or without giving a reason. An employer can immediately terminate an employee (summary dismissal) if the employee was lawfully sentenced for committing a wilful crime or was in serious breach of labour discipline.

An employer cannot immediately terminate the employment relationship with a pregnant employee, a female employee on maternity leave, or a female or male employee on parental leave, with a lone female or male employee caring for a child younger than three years of age, or with an employee who personally cares for a close person with severe disability. An employer may however, terminate an employment relationship with them by giving notice, except for a female employee on maternity leave and male employee on parental leave. Employees can also immediately terminate the employment contract for health reasons, non-payment of wages, work jeopardizing health, life and moral of the worker. A worker who immediately terminates the employment contract is entitled to wage compensation at the amount of his/her average monthly earnings for a two-month notice period. The summary dismissal (both by the worker and employer) must be communicated in writing wherein reason for such termination must be clearly stated.

Severance Pay

When an employee is terminated for organizational reasons or health reasons, he/she is entitled to only notice period (at least one month or at least 2 months) for less than 2 years of service; at least 02-month notice and at least 01 month severance payment for 2-5 years of service; at least 03-month notice and at least 02-month severance payment for 5-10 years of service; at least 03-month notice and at least 03-month severance payment for 10-20 years of service; and at least 03-month notice and at least 04-month severance payment for more than 20 years of service. Employees are entitled to full wages during the notice period and are paid severance allowance in addition.

Employment relationship may be terminated for organizational reasons or health reasons of an employee by a mutual agreement. In such case, the worker is entitled to one-month severance allowance for less than 2 years of service; 02-month severance payment for 2-5 years of service; 03-month severance payment for 5-10 years of service; 04-month severance payment for 10-20 years of service; and at least 05-month severance payment for more than 20 years of service.

If employment agreement is terminated by mutual agreement for health related reasons (occupational accident, occupational disease or the risk of such a disease), employee is entitled to 10 times his average monthly salary as severance allowance (10-month allowance).

Employee is not entitled to severance allowance if employment agreement is terminated for personal reasons.

Regulations on family responsibilities:

Labour Code No. 311/2001, amended in 2017

Paternity Leave

Paternity leave is not provided for in Slovak legislation. Employers have no obligation to provide paid or unpaid leave to new father following the birth of a child. Employer is required to give time-off to the worker on the birth of his child. This is paid time-off for the time necessary to transport the mother of the child to a medical facility and back. This can count as paternity leave. In connection with the care of a newborn, men/fathers are also entitled to parental leave from the birth of the child, in the same scope as maternity leave, provided that he cares for the newborn.

Parental Leave

Employer is required to provide workers (a man or a woman), upon their request, the parental leave until the day child turns three years old. If the child is seriously disabled requiring care, parental leave is provided until the child turns 06 years old. The minimum duration of parental leave has to be one month.

Employer is required to provide the worker this leave for the length as requested by the parent. A parental allowance €213.20 per month is available to all eligible families whether they take parental leave or not however only one parent is entitled to parental allowance. The allowance is funded from general taxation. Parental allowance is increased by 25% per child in the case of multiple births and it is reduced by 50% if older children do not regularly attend compulsory school. An employer and employee may agree to provide parental leave until a child turns 05 (08 years in case of disabled child) however the total duration of parental leave cannot exceed 03 years (06 years in the case of disabled child).

No Harmful Work

As a general condition, employers are required to establish, maintain and improve the level of social facilities and personal sanitation facilities for all women workers.

Pregnant women, mothers until the end of nine month from child birth and breastfeeding women workers should not be employed in works that are physically inappropriate for them or harm their organism. Pregnant women, mothers until the end of nine month from child birth and breastfeeding women workers cannot be employed to perform works with a potential threat to the workers' safety and health and possible effects on pregnancy and breastfeeding. List of jobs and workplaces associated with specific risks for women workers has been identified in Government regulation No. 272/2004 (z. Nariadenie vlády Slovenskej republiky, ktorým sa ustanovuje zoznam prác a pracovísk, ktoré sú zakázané tehotným ženám, matkám do konca deviateho mesiaca po pôrode a dojčiacim ženám, zoznam prác a pracovísk spojených so špecifickým rizikom pre tehotné ženy, matky do konca deviateho mesiaca po pôrode a pre dojčiace ženy a ktorým sa ustanovujú niektoré povinnosti zamestnávateľom pri zamestnávaní týchto žien).

Under the Occupational Safety and Health Protection Act, employers are required to assess risks and draw up a document on risk assessment in all activities performed by the employees and develop and update as necessary their own list of jobs and workplaces prohibited to pregnant women, mothers until the end of ninth month after child birth and nursing mothers or other works that associated with specific risks for these women.

DECENTWORKCHECK.ORG

A pregnant women worker may not be employed in work that, according to a medical opinion, may jeopardize her pregnancy due to health causes pertinent to her person. This provision is equally applicable to a breast feeding women workers and workers till the end of ninth month following child birth. If a pregnant worker performs work that is prohibited to pregnant women or which can threaten her pregnancy, employer is required to temporarily change the working conditions. If this change in working conditions is not possible, the woman worker may be temporarily transferred to another work suitable to her where she gets the same wages as earlier. If a woman worker is transferred to another job, and her new pay is less than the previous salary, she is entitled to a compensation benefit to balance this difference during pregnancy and motherhood. This compensation benefit is paid from the sickness insurance.

If it is not possible to transfer a pregnant woman to a position with day work or transfer to other suitable work, the employer is obliged to provide a pregnant employee with time-off and wage compensation. This provision is also applicable to a mother to the end of ninth month following child birth and a breastfeeding woman.

When designating employees to work shifts, employers are required to take into account the needs of pregnant women, women and men continuously caring for children. If a pregnant woman, men and women continuously caring for a child younger than 15 years of age requests a reduction in working time or other arrangement to the fixed weekly working time, the employer is required to accommodate these requests unless prevented by substantive operational reasons. A pregnant woman, a woman or man continuously caring for a child younger than three years old, a single parent continuously caring for a child younger than fifteen years old may be employed for overtime work only with their agreement.

Maternity Leave

Female employees are entitled to a paid maternity leave in the event of child birth. Maternity leave in connection with the birth of a child cannot be longer than 14 weeks and in no case be terminated or interrupted prior to the end of six week from the day of child birth. In the case of still birth, a woman worker is entitled to a maternity leave of 14 weeks. Maternity leave can be started 06-08 weeks prior to the expected date of child birth. The general duration of maternity leave is 34 weeks. A single mother is entitled to a maternity leave for the duration of 37 weeks and a woman worker giving multiple births (two or more children) is entitled to maternity leave for the duration of 43 weeks.

If a woman worker has drawn less than six weeks of maternity leave prior to giving birth due to the earlier than expected birth, she is entitled to her remaining pre-birth leave by taking it after confinement. On the other hand, if a woman worker has drawn less than six weeks of maternity leave before confinement for some other reason, she is entitled to only the post confinement part which is 28 weeks in general cases; 31 weeks for single mothers; and 37 weeks for women workers with multiple births.

DECENTWORKCHECK.ORG

If maternity leave is interrupted as child is taken into the care of a nursing institution or other treatment establishment and woman worker appear for work, she is entitled to remainder of her leave when she takes the child back from the institution into her own care and stops working. The maternity leave can be used until a child reaches three years of age. Similar provisions apply for parental leave for fathers. If the father and mother do not care for the newborn and the child is admitted into a foster home or similar institution for reasons other than health, they are not entitled to maternity leave or parental leave for the period during which they do not care for the child.

Income

All insured women who are pregnant or caring for a newborn as well other persons who are awarded custody of a child (like father) are entitled to a maternity benefit if they had sickness insurance for at least 270 days during the last two years before delivery or arrival of child. In general, the maternity benefit is paid for a period of 34 weeks (six to eight weeks before confinement and remaining weeks after confinement).

In the case of single mother, multiple births and still birth, the maternity benefit is paid for the period of 37 weeks, 43 weeks and 14 weeks respectively. Those who are awarded custody of a child are entitled to maternity benefit for a period of 28 weeks, 31 weeks or 37 weeks after the commencement of entitlement however before the child reaches three years of age.

The maternity benefit, paid out of sickness insurance, is paid for seven days a week and is 65% of the daily assessment base. The maternity benefits are paid through social insurance by the Government.

Job security

There is no clear provision on sick leave in Slovak legislation however employer are required not to serve a contract termination notice on a worker within a period when that worker is acknowledged temporarily incapable for work due to a disease or accident unless it is deliberately induced or caused by the worker under the influence of alcohol, narcotic substances or psychotropic substances. The protection is also available within the period from submission of a proposal for institutional care or from entry into spa treatment up to the day of termination thereof. A fixed term worker can be hired to substitute an employee who is temporarily unable to work due to disease or accident. Employers are also required to excuse absence of an employee from work for periods of employee's temporary incapacity due to disease or accident. When an employee returns to work after temporary incapacity for work or quarantine, the employer is required to assign him/her to their original job and workplace. If that is not possible, employer is obliged to assign the employee to different work corresponding to the contract of employment. In view of above provisions, it can be safely concluded that the maximum limit of sick leave, during which employment of a worker is secure, is 52 weeks.

Disability/Work Injury Benefit

Occupational injuries benefits are payable to insured people who are injured at work while discharging their works tasks or other tasks in relation to their work. Accountability for damages arising from occupational accidents falls on the employer with whom the worker was in employment relationship at the time of accident.

Accidents while travelling between home and work not are covered. Employer is exempted of the liability if it is proved that the accident was caused by employee's fault.

The work injury benefits are covered under accident insurance in the Social Insurance Law. These include accident increment, accident annuity, lump-sum compensation, lump-sum reimbursement (single damages to survivors), accident inheritance annuity, rehabilitation for work and rehabilitation benefits, retraining and retraining benefits, compensation for pain and reduced social life, treatment costs compensation and funeral costs compensation.

Employees are entitled to accident increment if they are unable to work for a short period of time due to sickness or accident and are receiving wage compensation or sickness benefit. The purpose of this benefit is to reduced the difference between the actual income (when worker was performing work) and reduced income (in the form of sickness benefit). Accident Bonus/increment amounts to 55% of the average daily income during first 3 days of incapacity and to 25% of the average daily income from day 04.

DECENTWORKCHECK.ORG

A one-off redemption benefit in the form of lump-sum compensation is paid for the loss of at least 10% (but less than 40%) in working capacity as a result of work injury or occupational disease. The amount of lump-sum compensation is calculated on the basis of beneficiary's gross annual pay before his/her accident/illness and the percentage loss of working capacity. The formula is $365 * \text{average daily income} * \text{degree of incapacity}$ (must be greater than 10% but less than 40%) divided by 100.

Accident annuity is paid for a loss of at least 40% or more in the working capacity as a result of work injury or occupational disease. The rate of accident annuity is assessed in relation to the worker's activity before his/her accident or illness. The amount of accident annuity is equal to $30.4167 * 80\%$ of the daily assessment base * degree of disability (percentage loss in working capacity).

Accident Inheritance Annuity and lump-sum reimbursement (single damages to survivors) are paid to the survivors if the insured worker died due to a working accident or injury. The inheritance annuity is paid when there is a court order for maintenance; otherwise a lump-sum amount is paid to the survivors. Entitlement to the inheritance annuity ends when the worker would have reached retirement age. In the case of lump-sum payment, it is equal to $730 * \text{average daily income of the worker}$ (up to a maximum amount of €53,503.20). 50% of the sum paid to the survivor spouse is paid to a orphaned child however the total amount of compensation for all orphans cannot exceed €53,503.20. There is also provision for a funeral grant which cannot be greater than €2577.

Regulations on social security:

Law on Social Insurance No. 461/2003

Pension Rights

Normal Retirement age for Men and women, as determined by the Ministry of Labour, Social Affairs and Family depending upon the average life expectancy, is 62 years and 76 days in 2017. The retirement age for women is also dependent on the number of children she raised. The two relevant acts for old age pension are Act No. 43/2004 on Old Age Pension Saving System and Act No. 461/2003 on Social Insurance. The pension system in Slovakia is divided into three pillars:

- i. 1st pillar (pay as you go system)....managed by the Social Insurance Institute;
- ii. 2nd pillar (fund based system)...provided by pension asset management companies; and
- iii. 3rd pillar (voluntary system)...private benefit plans managed by the pension fund management and commercial life insurance companies

We focus here only on the pension managed by the Social Insurance Institute. There must be 15 years of coverage to be eligible for old age pension. There is also provision for early (paid from 02 years before normal retirement age with at least 15 years of coverage) and deferred pension. The old age pension is calculated with the following formula:

Term of pension insurance (number of contribution years) * personal average wage point (annual gross salary/national yearly average wage) * current pension value (set by the Social Insurance Act). The early retirement pension is reduced by 0.5% for each remaining month until the official retirement age is reached. The deferred pension is increased by 0.5% for each month beyond the official retirement age.

Current pension value for the year 2017 is EUR 11.3505.

Dependent's/Survivors' Benefit

In order to qualify for the survivors' pension, the deceased worker must have met the qualifying conditions for old age or disability pension or was an old-age or disability pensioner at the time of death. Survivors (widow, widower, dependent children until the age of 26 years or disabled) are eligible for this benefit. Benefit for the surviving spouse ceases on remarriage.

DECENTWORKCHECK.ORG

Under the social insurance system, the monthly pension is 60% of the pension the deceased worker received or would have been entitled to receive. The survivor pension for spouse is payable for one year only unless certain other conditions (like disability greater than 70% or taking care of a dependent child or she has reached the retirement age, etc) are also met. Orphan's pension is 40% of the deceased worker's pension and it is payable until the age of 18 years or 26 years if in education or disabled.

Invalidity Benefit

The invalidity Pension is payable to insured persons whose health is chronically impaired leading to permanent loss in the working capacity of at least 41%. Full invalidity is loss of working capacity of more than 70%. In order to be eligible for invalidity pension, the insured person must be assessed as disabled, must have been insured for a minimum period, be under retirement age and should not be receiving an early old-age pension at the date of start of disability.

The minimum insurance period depends on age of the workers and varies from less than one year (for workers less than 20 years of age) to 15 years (for workers aged 45 and above). Only 50% of the invalidity benefit is payable if invalidity was caused by alcohol or drug abuse. The full disability pension (for loss of working capacity of at least 70%) is the product of average personal wage point * length of coverage period * current pension value. The partial disability pension is reduced according to the assessed loss of earning capacity.

10/13 Fair Treatment

Regulations on fair treatment:

Labour Code No. 311/2001, amended in 2017

Anti-Discrimination Act No. 365/2004

Equal pay

In accordance with the Labour Code, wage conditions of employees should be agreed without any form of discrimination. Both women and men have the right to equal wages for equal work or for work of equal value. Equal work or work of equal value is defined as “the work of same or comparable complexity, responsibility and urgency/difficulty, carried out under the same or comparable working conditions and producing the same or comparable capacity and results of work for the same employer. If a system of job evaluation is used, it must be based on the same criteria for men and women and without sex discrimination. The provisions of equal pay apply to the employees of the same sex if they carry out equal work or work of equal value.

The Anti-Discrimination Act also requires that workers get equal treatment in all employment matters including remuneration irrespective of their sex, sexual orientation, religion or belief, race, national or ethnic origin, age, and disability.

Source: §6 & 119(a) of the Labour Code No. 311/2001, amended in 2017; §6 of Anti-Discrimination Act No. 365/2004

Sexual Harassment

Harassment means such conduct which creates or may create an intimidating, hostile, shameful, humiliating, degrading, disrespectful or offensive environment and the purpose or effect of which is or may be the violation of freedom or human dignity. Sexual harassment means verbal, non-verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature, the purpose or effect of which is or may be the violation of human dignity and which creates an intimidating, humiliating, dishonoring, hostile or offensive environment.

An employee has the right to file a complaint to the employer in connection with the principle of equal treatment and the employer is obliged to respond to the complaint without undue delay, rectify, and refrain from such conduct and to remedy its consequences. An employee who considers that his/her legally protected rights or interests are affected by the failure to apply principles of equal treatment may submit their case to a civil court (there are no special labour courts for discrimination cases in the area of employment) and seek legal protection as provided under the Antidiscrimination Act.

Non-discrimination

Under the Labour Code, discrimination is prohibited on the grounds of sex, marital and family status, sexual orientation, race, colour of skin, language, age, unfavourable health state or health disability, genetic traits, belief or religion, political or other conviction, trade union activity, national or social origin, national or ethnic group affiliation, property, lineage or other status. Discrimination is prohibited in employment relations on the grounds of sex, religion or belief, race, national or ethnic origin, disability, age and sexual orientation. Discrimination on the basis of sex means discrimination on the grounds of pregnancy or maternity as well as discrimination on grounds of sexual or gender identification. Discrimination on the ground of race, national or ethnic origin means discrimination on the ground of relationship with a person of particular race, nationality and ethnic origin.

Discrimination by one's relationship with a person or certain religion or belief or discrimination against a person without religion is deemed to constitute discrimination based on religion or belief. Discrimination by disability means discrimination based on previous disability or discrimination against a person who because of external symptoms appears to have a disability.

Minimum Age for Hazardous Work

Minimum Age for Hazardous Work is set as 18 years. Workers younger than 18 years are considered adolescent workers. Employers are required to conclude an employment contract with an adolescent employee on his/her medical examination. Employer is required to inform the adolescent employee (or legal representative of a worker performing light work) of potential risks at the work performed and the measures adopted in connection with safety and protection of health at work. An adolescent employee may immediately terminate an employment contract if the work is jeopardizing his/her morals. The working time of adolescent employees under the age of 16 years is 30 hours per week, even when they are working for several employers. Maximum weekly working hours of adolescent employees over the age of 18 years are 37 hours and 30 minutes even when these employees are working for several employers. The working time of an adolescent employee cannot exceed 08 hours in the course of 24 hours.

Employers are obliged to create favourable conditions for the overall development of the physical and mental aptitudes of adolescent employees as well as specific arrangement of their working conditions. Employers may only employ adolescent employees for such works that are appropriate to their physical and mental development, which do not jeopardize their morality and should provide them with increased care at work. An adolescent worker cannot be employed for overtime work and night work. In exceptional cases, adolescent employees may perform night work but not in excess of one hour, if that is necessary for vocational training. Adolescent employees cannot be employed for underground work in the extraction of minerals or drilling of tunnels and passages. Adolescent employees cannot be employed for work which at the worker's age is inappropriate or dangerous for him/her or damaging to his/her health. Adolescent employees cannot be employed for work at which they exposed to an increased risk of accident nor the performance of which could seriously endanger the health of co-workers or other persons. In pursuance of section 175 of Labour Code, a Government Regulation establishes a list of jobs and workplaces prohibited to young employees.

12/13 Forced LabourRegulations on forced labour:

Labour Code No. 311/2001, amended in 2017

Prohibition on Forced and Compulsory Labor

In accordance with the Slovak Constitution (No. 460/1992 Coll.), no one may be subjected to forced labour or services. However, the forced labour prohibition does not apply to “work assigned according to law to persons serving a prison sentence or persons serving other sentence substituting a prison sentence; military service or other service laid down by law in lieu of compulsory military service; services required on the basis of the law in the event of natural disasters, accidents, or other dangers posing a threat to life, health, or property of great value; activities prescribed by law to protect life, health, or the rights of others; and small community services on the basis of the law.

An employer cannot make undue deductions from the wages of an employee and cannot restrict an employee in any way from freely spending his/her wages. A person who traffics others, even with their own consent, for the purpose of prostitution or another form of sexual exploitation including pornography, forced labour or domestic slavery, slavery or practices similar to slavery, bondage, taking of organs, tissues or cells or other forms of exploitation is liable to a term of imprisonment for four to ten years.

13/13 Trade Unions

Regulations on trade unions:

Constitution of Slovak Republic No. 460/1992 Coll

Law of Associations of Citizens No. 83/1990 Coll

Freedom to Join and Form a Union

The right to freely associate is guaranteed to everyone by the Constitution. Everyone has the right to freely associate with others in order to protect their economic and social interests. Trade union organizations are established without state interference. The number of trade union organizations cannot be limited and it is illegal to grant some of them a preferential status in an enterprise or branch of economy. Activities of trade unions can be restricted by law if such measure is required to protect the security of state, public order or the rights and freedoms of others. Trade unions are obliged to inform the employer of the start of its activities in the employer's premises and present a list of members of the trade union body to the employer. In response, employer is required to allow the operation of trade union organizations at the workplace. Trade unions and other association are regulated under Law of Associations of Citizens No. 83/1990 coll.

Freedom of collective bargaining

The constitution guarantees the right to collective bargaining and the Labour Code includes regulations covering the process and the content of collective agreements. There is also a specific act (2/1991) on collective bargaining that includes provisions on the types of collective agreements, their validity and effect, procedures and settlement of conflicts.

Under article 10 of Labour Code, employees and employers have the right to collective bargaining. Trade union bodies participate in matters of labour relations, including collective bargaining. Works council or works trustee participate in labour-law relations, subject to conditions as stipulated by law. Employers are obliged to enable trade union bodies, works councils or works trustees to operate at workplaces. Trade unions conclude collective agreement with an employer, which may regulate working conditions including wage conditions and conditions of employment, relations between employers and employees, relations between employers or their organizations and one or more employees" organizations on more favourable terms than those stipulated in labour code or other labour laws.

01/13 Work & Wages

ILO Conventions on Work and Wages

Minimum wage: Convention 131 (1970)

Regular pay & wage protection: Conventions 95 (1949) and 117(1962)

Slovakia has ratified Convention 95 only.

Minimum wage

The minimum wage must cover the living expenses of the employee and his/her family members. Moreover it must relate reasonably to the general level of wages earned and the living standard of other social groups.

Regular Pay

Wages must be paid regularly on a daily, weekly, fortnightly or monthly basis.

02/13 Compensation

ILO Conventions on Compensation

Compensation overtime: Convention 01 (1919); Night work: Convention 171 (1990)

Slovakia has ratified both Conventions 01 & 171.

Overtime Compensation

Working overtime is to be avoided. Whenever it is unavoidable, extra compensation is at stake - minimally the basic hourly wage plus all additional benefits you are entitled to. In accordance with ILO Convention 1, overtime pay rate should not be less than one and a quarter times (125%) the regular rate.

Night Work Compensation

Night work means all work which is performed during a period of not less than seven (07) consecutive hours, including the interval from midnight to 5 a.m. A night worker is a worker whose work requires performance of a substantial number of hours of night work which exceeds a specified limit (at least 3 hours). Convention 171 requires that night workers be compensated with reduced working time or higher pay or similar benefits. Similar provisions are found in the Night Work Recommendation No. 178 of 1990.

Compensatory Holidays/Rest Days

If you have to work on a national/religious holiday or a weekly rest day, you should be entitled to compensation. Not necessarily in the same week, provided that the right to a paid compensation is not.

Weekend/Public Holiday work Compensation

If you have to work during the weekend, you should thereby acquire the right to a rest period of 24 uninterrupted hours instead. Not necessarily in the weekend, but at least in the course of the following week. Similarly, if you have to work on a public holiday, you must be given a compensatory holiday. A higher rate of pay for working on a public holiday or a weekly rest day does not take your right to a holiday/ rest.

03/13 Annual Leave & HolidaysILO Conventions on weekly rest days and paid annual leave

Convention 132 (1970) on Holidays with Pay Convention

Conventions 14 (1921), 47 (1935) and 106 (1957) for weekly rest days. In addition, for several industries, different Conventions apply.

Slovakia has ratified the Convention 14 only.

Paid Vacation/Annual Leave

An employee is entitled to at least 21 consecutive paid annual leave. National and religious holidays are not included. Collective agreements must provide at least one day of annual leave on full remuneration for every 17 days on which the employee worked or was entitled to be paid.

Pay on Public Holidays

You should be entitled to paid leave during national and officially recognized public holidays.

Weekly Rest Day

Workers should enjoy a rest period of at least twenty-four consecutive hours in every 7 day period, i.e., a week

04/13 Employment SecurityILO Conventions on employment termination

Convention 158 (1982) on employment termination

Slovakia has ratified the Convention 158.

The questions under this section measure the security or even flexibility or precariousness of an employment relationship. Although these are not clearly mentioned in a single convention (severance pay and notice requirement are provided in the Termination of Employment Convention No. 158) however, the best practices in the field require that employees be provided with a written contract of employment; workers on fixed term contracts should not be hired for tasks of permanent nature; a reasonable probation period (ideally lower than or equal to 6 months) may be followed to assess the suitability of an employee; a period of notice must be specified in an employment contract before severing the employment relationship; and workers be paid severance allowance on termination of employment relationship.

Written Employment Particulars

A contract of employment may be oral or written however workers should be provided with a written statement of employment at the start of their employment.

Fixed Term Contracts

Fixed Term Contract workers must not be hired for permanent tasks as it leads to precarious employment.

Probation Period

A reasonable probation period must be provided to a worker to learn new skills. A newly hired employee may be fired during probation period without any negative consequences.

Notice Requirement

A reasonable notice period, depending on the length of service of an employee, may be required before an employer may sever the employment relationship.

Severance Pay

Employers may be required to pay a severance allowance on termination of employment (due to redundancy or any other reason except for lack of capacity or misconduct).

05/13 Family ResponsibilitiesILO Conventions on family responsibilities

Convention 156: Workers with Family Responsibilities Convention (1981)

Recommendation 165: Workers with Family Responsibilities (1981)

Slovakia has ratified the Convention 156 only.

Paternity Leave

This is for the new fathers around the time of child birth and is usually of shorter duration.

Parental Leave

The accompanying recommendation (No. 165) to ILO Convention on Family Responsibilities provides for parental leave as an option available to either parent to take long leave of absence (paid or unpaid) without resigning from work. Parental leave is usually taken once the maternity and paternity leave have been exhausted. For working parents, laws may define the portion of parental leave that has to be compulsorily taken by fathers or mothers.

Flexible Work Option for Parents / Work-Life Balance

Recommendation 165 asks for looking into measures for improving general working conditions through flexible work arrangements.

06/13 Maternity and WorkILO Conventions on maternity and work

An earlier Convention (103 from 1952) prescribed at least 12 weeks maternity leave, 6 weeks before and 6 weeks after. However, a later convention (No. 183 from year 2000) requires that maternity leave be at least 14 weeks of which a period of six weeks compulsory leave should be after childbirth.

Slovakia has ratified Convention 183 only.

Free medical care

During pregnancy and maternity leave, you should be entitled to medical and midwife care without any additional cost.

No harmful work

During pregnancy and while breastfeeding, you should be exempt from work that might bring harm to you or your baby.

Maternity leave

Your maternity leave should last at least 14 weeks.

Income

During maternity leave, your income should amount to at least two thirds of your preceding salary.

Protection from Dismissals

During pregnancy and maternity leave, you should be protected from dismissal or any other discriminatory treatment.

Right to return to same position

Workers have the right to return to same or equivalent position after availing maternity leave.

Breastfeeding/Nursing Breaks

After child birth and your rejoining your organization, you must be allowed paid nursing breaks for breastfeeding your child.

07/13 Health & SafetyILO Conventions on Health and Safety

Most ILO OSH Conventions deal with very specific Occupational Safety hazards, such as asbestos and chemicals.

Convention 155 (1981) is the relevant general convention here. Labour Inspection Convention: 81 (1947)

Slovakia has ratified both Conventions 81 & 155.

Employer cares

Your employer, in all fairness, should make sure that the work process is safe.

Free protection

Your employer should provide protective clothing and other necessary safety precautions for free.

Training

In order to ensure workplace safety and health, a central, independent and efficient labour inspection system should be present.

Labour Inspection System

You and your colleagues should receive training in all work related safety and health aspects and you should have been shown the emergency exits.

08/13 Sick Leave & Employment Injury BenefitsILO Conventions on Sickness and Employment Injury

Convention 102 (1952), Conventions 121 (1964) and 130 (1969) concerning Social Security, Employment Injury Benefits and Medical Care and Sickness Benefits

Slovakia has ratified the Conventions 102 & 130 only.

Income/Paid Sick Leave

Your rights to work and income should be protected when illness strikes. The national labour law may provide that sickness benefit may not be paid during the first 3 days of your absence. Minimally you should be entitled to an income during first 6 months of illness. This income should be at least 45 per cent of the minimum wage. (Countries are free to opt for a system which guarantees 60 per cent of the last wages during the first 6 months of illness or even during the first year). You should be entitled to paid sick leave.

Medical Care

During illness, you should be entitled to medical care without any additional cost. Employees and their family members should have access to the necessary minimal medical care at an affordable cost.

Job security

During the first 6 months of your illness, you should not be fired.

Disability/Work Injury Benefit

Whenever you are disabled due to an occupational disease or accident, you ought to receive a higher benefit. In the case of temporary or total incapacity/disability, a worker may at least be provided 50% of his average wage while in the case of fatal injury, the survivors may be provided with 40% of the deceased worker's average wage in periodical payments.

DECENTWORKCHECK.ORG

09/13 Social SecurityILO Conventions on Social Security

Social Security (minimum standards): Convention 102 (1952). For several benefits somewhat higher standards have been set in subsequent Conventions

Employment Injury Benefits: Conventions 121 (1964),

Invalidity, Old age and survivors' benefits: Convention 128(1967)

Medical Care and Sickness Benefits: Convention 130 (1969)

Unemployment Benefits: Convention 168 (1988).

Slovakia has ratified the Conventions 102, 128 & 130 only.

Pension Rights

In the normal circumstances, the pensionable age may not be set higher than 65 years of age. If retirement age is fixed above 65 years, it should give "due regard to the working ability of elderly persons" and "demographic, economic and social criteria, which shall be demonstrated statistically". Pension can be set as a percentage of the minimum wage or a percentage of the earned wage.

Dependent's/Survivors' Benefit

When the breadwinner has died, the spouse and children are entitled to a benefit, expressed as a percentage of the minimum wage, or a percentage of the earned wage. This must at least be 40% of the reference wage.

Unemployment Benefit

For a limited period of time, the unemployed has a right to unemployment benefit set as a percentage of the minimum wage or a percentage of the earned wage.

Invalidity Benefits

Invalidity benefit is provided when a protected person is unable to engage in a gainful employment, before standard retirement age, due to a non-occupational chronic condition resulting in disease, injury or disability. Invalidity Benefit must at least be 40% of the reference wage.

10/13 Fair TreatmentILO Conventions on Fair Treatment

Convention 111 (1958) lists the discrimination grounds which are forbidden.

Convention 100 (1952) is about Equal Remuneration for Work of Equal Value.

Slovakia has ratified both Conventions 100 & 111.

Equal Pay

At workplaces equal pay for men and women for work of equal value is a must, regardless of marital status. Pay inequality based on race, colour, sex, religion, political opinion, national extraction/place of birth or social origin is also forbidden. A transparent remuneration system and the clear matching of pay and position should be in place and to help prevent wage discrimination.

Sexual Harassment

Not clearly provided in ILO Conventions. However, sexual intimidation/harassment is gender discrimination.

Non-Discrimination

Your employer can't discriminate against you on in any aspect of employment (appointment, promotion, training and transfer) on the basis of union membership or participation in union activities, filing of a complaint against an employer, race, colour, sex, marital status, family responsibilities, pregnancy, religion, political opinion, national extraction or social origin, temporary absence due to illness, age, trade union membership, disability/HIV-AIDS, or absence from work during maternity leave. (Conventions 111, 156, 158, 159 and 183)

Equal Choice of Profession

People have the right to work and there can't be occupational segregation on the basis of gender.

11/13 Minors & Youth

ILO Conventions on Minors & Youth

Minimum Age: Convention 138 (1973)

Worst Forms of Child labour: Convention 182 (1999)

Slovakia has ratified both Conventions 138 & 182.

Minimum Age for Employment

At workplaces, children may not be forced to perform work that could harm their health and hampers their physical and mental development.

All children should be able to attend school. Once this is safeguarded, there is no objection against children performing light jobs between the ages of 12 and 14. The general minimum age is 15 years however developing countries may set this at 14 years. The minimum age for hazardous work, work that is likely to jeopardize the health, safety or morals of young persons, is 18 years. It can also be set at a lower level of 16 years under certain circumstances

Children should not be employed in a work that is likely to harm the health, safety or morals of children. It is considered one of the worst forms of child labour. The minimum age for such hazardous work is 18 years.

12/13 Forced Labour

ILO Conventions on Forced/Bonded labour

Forced labour: Conventions 29 (1930)

Abolition of Forced labour: Conventions 105 (1957)

Forced labour is the work one has to perform under threat of punishment: forfeit of wages, dismissal, harassment or violence, even corporal punishment. Forced labour means violation of human rights.

Slovakia has ratified both Conventions 29 & 105.

Prohibition on Forced and Compulsory labour

Except for certain exceptions, forced or compulsory labour (exacted under the threat of punishment and for which you may not have offered voluntarily) is prohibited.

Freedom to change jobs and Right to quit

Employers have to allow you to look for work elsewhere. If you do, you should not be shortened on wages or threatened with dismissal. (In the reverse cases, international law considers this as forced labour).

Inhumane Working Conditions

If the total working hours, inclusive of overtime exceed 56 hours per week, the worker is considered to be working under inhumane working conditions.

13/13 Trade UnionILO Conventions on Trade Union Rights

Freedom of association and protection of the right to organize: Convention 87 (1948)

Right to Organize and Collective Bargaining: Convention 98 (1949)

Slovakia has ratified both Conventions 87 & 98.

Freedom to join and form a union

Freedom of association means freedom to join a trade union. This is part of the fundamental human rights. Employees may not be put at a disadvantage when they are active in the trade union outside working hours. The list of exclusions for sectors of economic activity and workers in an organization should be short.

Freedom of Collective Bargaining

Trade unions are entitled to negotiate with employers on term of employment without hindrance. The freedom of a trade union to negotiate with employers to try and conclude collective agreements is protected. (The ILO has a special procedure for handling complaints from unions about violation of this principle).

Right to Strike

Workers have the right to strike in order to defend their social and economic interests. It is incidental and corollary to the right to organize provided in ILO convention 87.

About Decent Work and Decent Work Check

Compare your own situation with the international labour standards and how they are applied in Slovakia. At the end of the checklist you will see how things stand for you. You may be better off than what the international standards prescribe, but you should not be worse off. Behind every answer, you can find a short explanation of what your rights are; nationally and internationally. So you see right away if you can improve your situation.

The Decent Work Check makes the pretty abstract Conventions and legal texts tangible. Because, in the end, you want to know what your rights on the job mean in practice, what you may claim and what protection you are entitled to in case something unexpectedly does go wrong. The Decent Work Check employs double comparison system. It first compares national laws with international labour standards and gives a score to the national situation (happy or sad face). It allows workers to compare their real situation with national regulations in the country. Workers then compare their own score both at national and international levels. The Decent Work Check is based on de jure labour provisions, as found in the labour legislation. The real practice is informed by the employees themselves. This Check is different from other indices like World Bank's Doing Business Indicators or even ISSA's Social Security Programs throughout the World as it is not only descriptive in nature (bereft of any subjective opinions) but also that it covers a lot of different variables. The Revised Decent Work Check is also designed while taking into account upcoming Decent Work Indicators. While Decent Work Indicators focus more on statistics, our priority is informing workers about their rights through this Decent Work Check. Decent Work Check is useful both for employees and employers. It gives them knowledge, which is the first step towards any improvement. It informs employees of their rights at the workplace while simultaneously enlightening employers about their obligations. Decent Work Check is also useful for researchers, labour rights organizations conducting surveys on the situation of rights at work and general public wanting to know more about the world of work.

WageIndicator teams, around the world, have found out that workers, small employers and labour inspectors don't even know the labour law.

When you are informed - being a workers, self-employed, employee, employer, policy maker, labour inspector - there is a greater possibility that you ask for your rights (as a worker), you comply with rules (as an employer) and you strive to enforce these (as a labour inspector). As soon as you complete the DecentWorkCheck, you see which issues need improvement in your work life.

This is exactly the strategy chosen in the debates in many WageIndicator countries. In the debates with roughly 20-30 people around the table from all sides, the decent Work Check has soon the effect of a mini social dialogue. The people who run the dialogue are equally well informed.

The international labour standards are laid down in ILO-Conventions. ILO is the specialised body of the United Nations working on labour issues and was founded in 1919. In the ILO, negotiations are always going on between governments of the member states, national trade unions and employers associations regarding work related issues like rights at work and social protection. These negotiations may take years, but eventually lead to so called Conventions or Recommendations. In Conventions, minimum standards are laid down. Conventions are not the law, but the intention is that member states subscribe to the standard in question. The proper way to do that is to have these Conventions ratified by parliament and then make national laws (Some countries may follow the system of self-executing treaties). National law can be enforced. ILO-Conventions are usually accompanied by Recommendations on how to implement the standards.

Since 1999, the ILO works according to the so called Decent Work Agenda. In the meantime, the Decent Work Agenda has been widely accepted as an important strategy to fight poverty and foster development. The Agenda has been incorporated in the Millennium Development Goals of the United Nations. In short, the idea behind Decent Work is first of all an income which allows the working individual a good life. Moreover, at work, everybody has an equal chance to develop themselves; working conditions are safe; there is no instance of child and forced/bonded labour; and discrimination does not occur. Trade unions are allowed a real say in work related matters and the state has created a social safety net for all especially for the sick, weak, elderly and expecting women.
